Subject: closing our doors

CONGRESSMAN
Ron Paul

Dear *****,

I never wanted to have to sit down and write this letter to you.

For weeks now I've pushed it off because it hurts too much.

But this is too important, and you've been a good friend and supporter through the years so you deserve to know.

Over the past few weeks, I've been on the phone non-stop with Campaign for Liberty President Norm Singleton making tough decisions about the future of Campaign for Liberty.

Norm and I have done everything we can.

In a last ditch effort to save everything you and I have worked for over the last eight years, we've immediately restructured the organization, made some difficult cuts, and made some important changes.

Some essential programs have been put on hold. Senior staff have volunteered to cut their own salaries. Others have left, with their positions unfilled.

I have invested tens of thousands of my own personal money to try and keep Campaign for Liberty afloat.

But it still might not be enough.

Together, you and I have done a lot of good things for the liberty movement and the country. When I think about all this movement has accomplished since the 2008 R3VOLUTION, I'm not ready to let it go without a fight.

If this is the end, I don't want to say we did nothing to prevent this outcome.

And I hope you feel the same way.

The truth is, what ultimately happens with Campaign for Liberty is in your hands.

You see, without an immediate influx of funds from my loyal supporters, we may have to turn out the lights and lock the door at Campaign for Liberty forever.

The political establishment would love nothing more than to see that happen.

, I trust you haven't given up on your commitment to the cause of liberty.

I'm asking you to renew that commitment by making an emergency contribution to Campaign for Liberty today.

Think about it. In a world without Campaign for Liberty:

>>> Your First Amendment rights would've been shredded by Congress passing the so-called "DISCLOSE" Act;

>>> Cap and Tax would be law of the land, driving energy costs through the roof and destroying property rights in America;

>>> The Federal Reserve would be operating completely in the shadows without any mention in political debates or the news cycle;

>>> No one in either party would be talking about the Fourth Amendment's right to privacy from government snoops;

>>> The Transportation Security Administration would still be using Rapiscan porno-scanners to see kids and grandmas naked;

>>> And the so-called Assault Weapons Ban would be back in place, denying Americans their Second Amendment rights.

I shudder to think of where the country will be if Hillary Clinton is in office for the next four or even eight years -- without Campaign for Liberty here to stop the worst of her statist schemes.

You see, Campaign for Liberty has changed history in this country. And you've been a part of it all.

No, our actions will likely never be written about in history books.

But make no mistake, our actions through Campaign for Liberty have affected the political trajectory in this country and made a difference just by being in the fight.

And if we are able to continue, I know that we will continue to make great strides for the cause of liberty.

I hope you won't give up on your Campaign for Liberty when it needs your generous support now, more than ever.

I need to know you're still with me.

We need to raise \$255,000 by September 15 to keep our doors open, to prepare for a vote on Audit the Fed in both the House and Senate in 2016, brace for the critical November elections, and to be ready for state legislatures as they go into session.

If we can achieve this goal, we'll have no problem.

We can do it. I know we can.

I still remember my supporters sending jaws dropping around the country as my presidential campaign raised $6 million in one day!

Good folks like you contributed so generously because you wanted to see our R3VOLUTION take hold in America.

Now, I'm asking for your generous support to help ensure it continues.

Won't you please make your most generous contribution of \$100 or at least \$50 today?

I know that's a lot to ask. Perhaps even too much.

Since the 2008 financial crisis, the country has never recovered. Real wages have fallen while cost of living continues to rise.

This is a direct consequence of the Fed's easy money policies and our politicians refusing to allow a correction to take place.

But , when the next crisis happens -- and make no mistake, it will -- I fear it will be bigger and more disastrous than the last.

If Campaign for Liberty isn't around to point the finger at the Fed and demand action be taken to prevent them from interfering with the market correction, I don't believe anyone will.

That's why I'm counting on you to make a generous contribution to Campaign for Liberty today.

If $50 is simply too much at this time, won't you please consider renewing your commitment to the cause of liberty by making a very generous -- and helpful -- contribution of $25 today?

Campaign for Liberty is up against a wall.

It's been said "you can't save the world if you can't pay the rent."

, sadly, that's where we find ourselves today.

Believe me, we run a very tight operation.

We have a small staff who could easily make more money in the business world, but they choose to fight for liberty.

We don't have expensive office space in downtown Washington, D.C.

We are lean, and we are getting leaner.

If we can raise the $255,000, Norm and I will implement a plan to ensure Campaign for Liberty can operate at an even more slimmed down level without compromising our effectiveness.

But this is our last shot. It's our last chance to put Campaign for Liberty on secure footing. And it's why I so desperately need your help.

I can't bear the thought of a world without Campaign for Liberty.

But without the support of Campaign for Liberty members like you, I'm afraid within a month, it will become a reality.

Please help me reach our immediate need of $255,000 by September 15. Send your largest possible donation today.

Now, perhaps more than ever, Campaign for Liberty's impact must be felt.

For Liberty,

Ron Paul

P.S. Without an immediate influx of funds, C4L will have to close its doors. We've invested so much in our programs to protect our liberties and fight back against the statist in Washington, D.C.

There will be loud cheers from the halls of Capitol Hill as well as from the bureaucrats and Washington insiders who benefit from the crony capitalism we fight.

Campaign for Liberty needs an influx of at least $255,000 by September 15 to prevent that from happening. I'm not ready to give up, and I hope you'll make your largest possible donation now so we can continue to fight for liberty and our rights.

Thank you very much for your generosity during these times.

Because of Campaign For Liberty's tax-exempt status under IRC Sec. 501(C)(4) and its state and federal legislative activities, contributions are not tax deductible as charitable contributions (IRC § 170) or as business deductions (IRC § 162(e)(1)).
